Dear Friends,

There is so much to celebrate in our 2019 Festival season! This season of “firsts” welcomes artists new to the Festival including Broadway star Kristin Chenoweth, cabaret legend Michael Feinstein, the phenomenal Jessica Lang Dance company, and renowned classical music artists, along with a slate of premieres, including the world premiere performances of new works from Dance Theatre of Harlem and Richard Alston Dance Company, commissioned by the Festival through our partnership with the 2019 Commemoration, American Evolution™.

This season also marks an exciting new beginning for our chamber music programs, with the arrival of our new Connie & Marc Jacobson Director of Chamber Music, Van Cliburn Gold Medalist Olga Kern, who has curated a brilliant chamber music series featuring artists new to the Festival; one of the world’s great pianists, she will also perform a thrilling solo recital.

I’m particularly excited about our presentation — the East Coast premiere — of Shakespeare’s Antony and Cleopatra, in a production originally created by Shakespeare’s Globe in London; this exciting performance will feature the Virginia Symphony Orchestra conducted by JoAnn Falletta.

Our 23rd Virginia International Tattoo brings new artists this year including the Swiss Army Central Band and the Jordanian Armed Forces Combined Pipe Band, with female soldiers joining for the first time — part of a spectacular show that includes an inspiring salute to women in the military.

And we’re excited to announce the artists coming to our Williamsburg Summer Music Festival, singers Norah Jones and Emmylou Harris!

We hope you will join us! Browse this brochure and get your tickets now to guarantee your seats — it’s easy to order online, by phone or at our ticket office.

See you soon,

A regional and national leader in chamber music programming, Virginia Arts Festival brings world renowned artists to venues throughout Coastal Virginia. Now, the Festival announces its new Connie & Marc Jacobson Director of Chamber Music, the acclaimed Van Cliburn Prize-winning pianist, Olga Kern.

Born into a family of musicians with direct links to Tchaikovsky and Rachmaninoff, Olga Kern began studying piano at the age of five, and won the Rachmaninoff International Piano Competition at the age of seventeen. She went on to win a historic Gold Medal at the Van Cliburn International Piano Competition, the first woman to do so in more than thirty years. She is now recognized as one of her generation’s great artists.

Ms. Kern steps into the shoes of the Virginia Arts Festival’s founding Director of Chamber Music programming, André-Michel Schub, who curated unforgettable musical experiences for artists and audiences at the Festival for 22 years.

With her vivid stage presence, passionately confident musicianship and extraordinary technique, the striking pianist will bring her talent to Virginia Arts Festival for the 2019 season and beyond.

“AN ABSOLUTE WHIZ AT THE PIANO.”

DANCE THEATRE OF HARLEM

This national treasure celebrates its 50th anniversary in 2019 — and as if that weren’t enough reason to celebrate, the Virginia Arts Festival engagement includes a world premiere commissioned by the Festival and the 2019 Commemoration, American Evolution™. You’ll see soul-stirring dance that enchants and inspires: the new work celebrates the indomitable power of the human spirit, and the program also includes one of the most spectacular works in the Dance Theatre of Harlem repertoire, Dougla, brilliantly costumed dance driven by an exotic, drum-driven score. RICHARD ALSTON DANCE COMPANY

So much inspiration on one stage! This extraordinary performance offers you the opportunity to see a new work by one of the greatest living contemporary choreographers, Richard Alston. Commissioned by Virginia Arts Festival through its partnership with the 2019 Commemoration, the new piece is inspired by history and will include not just Alston's critically acclaimed company but a complement of 20 young dancers from Norfolk's Governor's School for the Arts. (This internationally renowned choreographer was so impressed by these young dancers when he did a master class with them during his company's 2017 engagement at Virginia Arts Festival that he decided to make them a part of his newest work.) In an art that has literally been handed down from one generation of creators and performers to the next, you will see the passing of the torch from a master of today to the dancers of tomorrow.

In addition to the world premiere, you'll see a slate of works never before performed in the U.S. — an extraordinary evening of discovery. Don't miss this chance to see dances of "amazing speed, explosive power and linear grace...that change your breathing while you watch" (The New York Times).

THE MAKING OF A WORLD PREMIERE

For months, the creative team and dancers have been working to create, polish and perfect a new ballet — that you will be the first to see. Created by Claudia Schreier, an award-winning young choreographer who has drawn attention and commissions from American Ballet Theatre, the Vail Dance Festival, and more, the ballet is in three parts for 12 dancers, and is set to a score composed for the Commemoration by Jessie Montgomery, whose music has been hailed as “wildly colorful and exploding with life” (The Washington Post). The creative team was given the challenge to create a new ballet on the themes of the 2019 Commemoration, which marks and commemorates historical events in 1619 that include the arrival of the first recorded Africans to English North America and the recruitment of English women in significant numbers to the colony, a pivotal year in the history of Virginia and the nation.

Dance Theatre of Harlem Artistic Director Virginia Johnson hails the opportunity to create a meaningful work that can express in abstract the fortitude of the human spirit and celebrate the invincible spark within that must prevail: “In the longstanding tradition of art as a powerful tool in the quest for meaning, this moving, beautiful ballet is meant to speak to the soul.”
JESSICA LANG DANCE

Get ready to discover “a dazzling talent!” (Seattle Times). This electrifying contemporary dance company is led by one of today’s most original and acclaimed choreographers: Jessica Lang’s imaginative approach blends beautiful dance with innovative stagecraft that is “fascinating…between the visually rich dancing and the often striking use of lighting and/or unusual props, we seem to enter new realms with each dance” (Boston Globe).

How do they do that? The seemingly superhuman dancers of Pilobolus “move so skillfully, so symbiotically, that they cease to resemble people at all. Plants, animals, all manner of objects and suggestions of objects arise and then dissolve, and at the end of an evening you feel as though you’ve glimpsed many worlds” (The New Yorker). An eye-popping performance like no other!

It started with an impromptu jam when multi-Grammy Award winners Sara Watkins, Sarah Jarosz and Aoife O’Donovan happened to be performing at the same festival. Individually, they had careers marked by extraordinary musicianship; together they have become a force in the music scene. Audiences lean in, “completely hushed, awaiting each fiddle line or banjo lick, each unexpected harmonic turn, each precise swell of three-part harmony” (The New York Times). A love story that lingers in myth and memory...and a score that enchanted audiences and then languished in obscurity...until now.

This extraordinary production — as originally produced by the famed Shakespeare's Globe Theatre of London — melds Shakespeare’s story of love, power and betrayal with a seductive, sensuous score by the great French composer Florent Schmitt. With costumed actors and the Virginia Symphony Orchestra conducted by JoAnn Falletta, you’ll hear Shakespeare’s lush language in a new way as you discover music that stirs the pulse. This must-see version of the Shakespeare classic has only been performed twice before — once in London and once at the Hollywood Bowl — and drew lavish critical acclaim: “Four stars! There was a superb synchronicity between actors and orchestra, with every emotional shift carefully underscored. Antony and Cleopatra loved and fought while Shmitt’s music at its most extravagant surged around them. Fascinating, every second of it” (The Guardian, London).

A MIDSUMMER NIGHT’S DREAM
U.S. PREMIERE!

The Bard on bikes? That’s the core principle of this lively troupe that crisscrosses Britain, taking Shakespeare’s classics to farmers’ fields and village greens — and now brings them to an outdoor spot near you, thanks to Virginia Arts Festival! A cast of four men play all the parts of Shakespeare’s A Midsummer Night’s Dream, using the props and costumes they’ve carried on their bikes for the occasion (and even using a pedaled bike to draw the curtain). “Consistently hilarious...the audience was crying, but with laughter, not despair. It’s not often that a production is both crackers and cracking, but the Handlebards have a foot set firmly in each camp” (The Press, York, United Kingdom).

For 22 years, fans have flocked to Norfolk from around the world to experience the largest spectacle of music and might in the United States. In the tradition of the world’s great “tattoos” in Edinburgh and Basel, the Virginia International Tattoo is an awe-inspiring celebration of inspirational military music, majestic pipes and drums, show stopping drill team maneuvers, colorful dancers, and much more.

"LET THE GENERATIONS KNOW THAT WOMEN IN UNIFORM ALSO GUARANTEED THEIR FREEDOM."
— Dr. Mary Edwards Walker, Medal of Honor Recipient

Every year’s Tattoo is different. In 2019, we will have an extraordinary cast of hundreds of performers from around the world and the centerpiece of this spectacular celebration will be a moving Salute to Women in the Military.

Generation after generation of women have shown not only the courage to protect the nation in times of war, but the commitment to change the nation for the better from within. In signature Tattoo style, we will tell their stories.

TATTOO TRADITION
For centuries, the cry “Tattoo” echoed throughout Europe — first a call by innkeepers to “Turn off the taps!” and then as the name for a grand display of military bands and drill teams. Mounting a mighty spectacle that changes every year, the Virginia International Tattoo summons hundreds of performers including drum corps, bagpipers, military bands, precision drill teams, and Highland dancers. A salute to international friendship and an emotional call to the love of country in us all, the Tattoo is an unmissable celebration.

What happens when you match an NEA Jazz Master and record-breaking Grammy® winning pianist with the world’s best banjo player who’s been nominated in more different Grammy® categories than anyone in history? An epic night of genius! This legendary pair spin a myriad of genres, from jazz, bluegrass, rock, flamenco and beyond. Enjoy an intimate evening with two extraordinary artists who share a deep friendship. “The level of humour, adventure and excitement generated on all of the material was astonishing...with bad puns and jokes kept up throughout. This was the sort of concert where you buy the album afterward as a way of pinching yourself to be sure the wonder that just unfolded was real” (Vancouver Sun).

THEO CROKER QUINTET

This trumpeter, bandleader, composer and arranger is the grandson of legendary trumpeter Doc Cheatham, a student of Donald Byrd, a protégé of Wynton Marsalis, and a veteran of performances with such jazz greats as Dee Dee Bridgewater, the Lincoln Center Jazz Orchestra, and many more. Theo Croker is creating jazz that is both “timeless and of the moment” (The Wall Street Journal).

NINE-TIME GRAMMY® WINNER NORAH JONES COMES TO WILLIAMSBURG!

This gifted singer, songwriter, and pianist burst onto the music scene in 2002 with her multi-million-selling hits Come Away With Me and Don’t Know Why. Since then she has explored many styles of music, from folk to rock to honky tonk, pop and hip hop. “Armed with that voice — a wry, simmering inflection — the Texas native has proven she can sing anything, and sound natural doing so, no matter where the road has taken her” (Pitchfork).

FRIDAY NIGHT, JUNE 21

PARKER MILLSAP

Unforgettable concerts in a uniquely beautiful, historic setting! Under the spreading shade trees on The Lawn of the Art Museums of Colonial Williamsburg, enjoy great music plus inspired local food, regional craft beers, and just around the corner, centuries of history to explore.

EMMYLOU HARRIS

“Nobody can deliver a song...quite like Emmylou Harris. When she pours her heart and soul into a lyric, you are instantly grabbed emotionally in a way that few artists can” (Billboard). A restless creative spirit, she has had a lasting impact on contemporary American music, pioneering the blend of folk, rock, bluegrass and country that informed the genre of Americana, and winning stacks of awards along the way, including 14 Grammys®, the Grammy® Lifetime Achievement Award, and the Country Music Hall of Fame. “She is both a roots music legend and a contemporary artistic force. A mesh of vulnerability and steely spine, Harris is a deeply moving singer. In a cold world that increasingly moves too fast, [her voice] tingled with warmth and honest emotion” (Chicago Tribune).

SATURDAY NIGHT, JUNE 22

MANDOLIN ORANGE
Back by popular demand! This singer, actor, playwright, author, and irresistibly dynamic performer first shot to fame as a finalist on the CBS show Rock Star: Supernova, and her fans have followed her around the world, from clubs to concert halls. “It’s hard not to fall in love with Storm Large. She draws the eye in a curve-hugging floor-length white gown, plunging neckline and shock of long, blond curls but it’s her voice that really tugs at heartstrings. Part angelic, part gut-wrenching rock growls and soul-shaking soul...This is a woman in her prime. A fierce commander of the stage...we leave smitten” (Adelaide Now).

CHRYSLER MUSEUM OF ART
Watercolor: An American Medium
This exhibition presents a survey of the heights of the American watercolor movement from around 1870–1940 and reveals a deeper appreciation of a genre critics once hailed as the quintessential American medium. Drawn from the Chrysler Museum of Art’s holdings of works on paper as well as Hampton Roads collections, the exhibition features watercolors which represent the broad set of styles, subjects, and artists that constituted this important and delightful chapter of American art.

Charles Demuth (American, 1883−1935), Pansies, 1915, Watercolor and graphite on paper, Chrysler Museum of Art, gift of an anonymous donor, 80.225
The artists in The Rest of History desire a richer, more complex historical narrative. Each one has an artistic practice that brings to light the stories and voices of those overlooked from history. A wider perspective is rarely pretty, and questions the moral integrity of everyone involved. But, it also offers a broader range of human stories and a more complex and interesting narrative. Through this exhibition, we can see that there is room for more characters in our human story. We are all better for it.

Organized by the Virginia Museum of Contemporary Art. Curated by Alison Byrne, Director of Exhibitions and Education and Heather Hakimzadeh, Curator.
